I Am Maura

It's 2005. Maura is trying to find a boyfriend. Only she's surrounded by girls and is starting to think she might actually prefer them. I Am Maura is a light hearted look at the life changing decisions we all face in our teenage years and how we're woefully ill-equipped to deal with them.

Commedia of Errors present this brand-new hilariously heartfelt look at young love, written and performed by Clare McMahon, A Play for Ireland writer, whose debut play Shakespeare's Women sold out the Lyric Belfast before touring NI and whose acting credits include the West End, MAC and the BBC's Woman in White. I Am Maura is directed by Benjamin Gould whose adaptation That Scottish Play! in 2018 became his second sell-out show at The Lyric Belfast and who directed smash-hit Women Troubles which visited DAC last year.

Trouble Songs

Performance

Based on Stuart Bailie's book, this sell out show from Belfast comes to life with songs, visuals and readings. Trouble Songs is about music and stories from contemporary Belfast. This performance weaves together memory, comedy and hard-hitting prose. A music and storytelling show in-the-round between 2 musicians and an author - Stuart Bailie, Joby Fox and Ursula Burns.

'Trouble Songs - Music and Conflict in Northern Ireland' sets the scene for the musical journey. Gripping stories and first-hand interviews with Christy Moore, The Undertones, Stiff Little Fingers and a number of international acts who visited the region when only a few bands would. The show journeys through a conflict of identity and turmoil into peace using music and stories.

Killymuck

Killymuck, written by Kat Woods (Wasted, Belfast Boy, Mule), starring Aoife Lennon (Mule, Edinburgh Festival, Clapham Omnibus and tour) offers an insight into how growing up on a council estate affects the present and informs the future.

Killymuck is a fictitious housing estate built on a paupers' graveyard in 1970s Ireland. Inspired by real events from Woods' upbringing, this black comedy sees Niamh navigate the trials and tribulations of being from the benefit system.

A powerful one-woman play that explores the political cause and effect of what being born with less means.

Aspects of Calligraphy

Calligraphy is not just beautiful writing, but another way to express your art through words. Traditionally using a pen and ink comes to mind but with this exhibition we hope that eyes can see another world of lettering. Words can be applied to any surface giving enjoyment and excitement. The journey started with Cuan Scribes an affiliated group of CLAS, at certificate level progressing through the Clas levels of Foundation, Intermediate and Advanced, and hopefully attaining Fellowship. Most now do it for pleasure and hope to demonstrate the wide range of techniques that they use.

Minecraft

Minecraft is a sandbox video game that allows players to work individually or as part of a team to build their own worlds. We like to think of it like a digital version of Lego.

WORKSHOP OUTLINE

Minecraft Team Challenge

Participants work in teams to complete a variety of build challenges during our Minecraft Workshop. These challenges will be customised to suit different, subjects and can also change in difficulty depending on the experience the participants have using Minecraft.

Design and Animate your Minecraft Character

This can be a bit boring when everyone on your team looks the same. We can also run a design your own character workshop that allows the participants to design their own character that they can play as during the game. They can also print off and create a real life 3D model of the character

We can also help you bring your character to life with our own animation app. So you can show off your creativity to the world. With our animation app you can create animated cartoon characters using frame-to-frame animation.

SUMMER NIGHTS & SUMMER DAYS

Wedding Fever

The ever-popular Belvoir Players make a welcome return to Newcastle for their now legendary Summer Theatre tour with 'Wedding Fever', a rip-roaring Sam Cree comedy.

Wedding fever is gripping the Galbraith household. Myra, daughter of football fanatic, Alec, is due to marry canny countryman Dennis Hall. His farmer parents come to town to meet their prospective in-laws and, as if this was not enough, American relations descend on the household. To add further confusion, railway worker Alec is involved in a strike, son Davy has been in an accident and nosey neighbour Emily Beattie constantly gets in everyone's way.

Expect the usual Sam Cree magic from start to end.

Letting Go or Losing It

Nuala McKeever's hilarious stand-up show comes to Newcastle!

If you're gliding gracefully towards the second half of your life, maybe this isn't the show for you. But if you want reassurance that you're not the only one struggling with all the things life throws at you, step right up!

Weight gain, menopause, bereavement and becoming invisible – just some of the joys that await the woman of a certain age! What to do? Lie down and take it (at least that makes your stomach look flatter) or stand up and laugh?

Nuala McKeever gives both a go in her hilarious new show as she transforms the awful into the awfully funny, by way of her trademark wit and compassion.

A Night in November

Summer Nights

Can passion really change a man?

Kenneth McAllister, a clerk in the local welfare office, is a Belfast Protestant who has followed all the rules. He loved who he was supposed to love. He lived where he was expected to live. He fought who he was taught to fight. Until one night – a night in November – he did the most exciting, outrageous, crazy, mad thing he'd ever done.

'A Night in November' is the stunning multi-award winning play from Marie Jones, the writer of other hit shows such as 'Stones In His Pockets' and 'Christmas Eve Will Kill You'. This brand new 25th Anniversary production by Sodabread Theatre Company is directed by Matthew McIlhinney and stars Matthew Forsythe.

Paul Currie – Dansko Gida

One of the few street performers to emerge from Vorland in the Kaash Republic – a land with few streets! Which might explain why Dansko Gida is more off the wall than off the streets.

He has been on a quest to find, in his own words, “the tickle muscle of Europe.” Dansko is eager to convert the world to his unique style of street comedy and share with us the local customs of Vorland. Surreal comedy is a phrase often misused but, in the case of Dansko, it doesn’t even begin to sum him up.

The Old Crow Express

performing alongside Exhibition opening
Mary Doran And David Johnston

The 'Old Crow Express' band have been together since 2017, all four members have played in previous bands, every performer in the band exudes a love of music.

The band draws its repertoire from nearly a century of musical history, true to the traditional rock and blues music from the 1920s and '30s and influenced by the more contemporary music of the latest half-century. They let themselves be inspired by among others: Etta James, Robert Johnson, Primal Scream, Muddy Waters.

The band have recently recorded their first EP. Describes as original wide-ranging with a feel-good vibe.

This is a band that knows how to entertain by captivating, high-energy performances with upbeat unique music and catchy lyrics.

Mikel Murfi stars in The Man In The Woman's Shoes

Performance

A one man show written and performed by Mikel Murfi

Set in October 1978 – Pope John Paul the First is not long dead, autumn is closing in and Pat Farnon has 'some business' to do in town. The Man In The Woman's Shoes follows Pat Farnon as he walks to town and back again. It is a beautifully observed piece, utterly simple and widely praised. The show is funny, tender and at times downright daft. Originally commissioned by Sligo County Council Arts Service and The Hawk's Well Theatre, Sligo as part of the Bealtaine Festival 2012. After a sell-out performance in Newry in 2017, this show is not to be missed!

Originally from Sligo, Mikel Murfi trained at Ecole Jacques Lecoq, Paris. His performances in theatre include Swan Lake (Teac Damsa); The New Electric Ballroom (Druid); Morning After Optimism, Playboy of the Western World (Peacock Theatre) and Directing work includes, Waiting for Godot (Theatre Du Pif, Hong Kong); The Far Off Hills (Nomad Theatre ); The Country Girls (Red Kettle); Diamonds in the Soil and The Lost Days of Ollie Deasy (Macnas).

Marble Productions present 'The Professor and The Factory'

A play by Michael Ievers. Starring Killeel-born Jason Nugent and political journalist, Ivan Little. This is followed by a short Q and A with Ivan Little on his latest book, 'Reporting the Troubles.' 'The Professor and the Factory' is set in Belfast during the early years of, 'The Troubles'. It is based upon a true story about the fortunes of a failing shirt factory that was transformed by the arrival of a professor from Queen's University, to such an extent, that during the Ulster Workers' Council strike of 1974, the women of the shirt factory repeatedly breached the barricades to keep the factory going. This is the story of these women....

Michael's first play, 'Sharkey', was awarded 3rd in the United Kingdom 'Geoffrey Whitworth' national play-writing competition in 2015. Following a chance discovery in a tin box in the attic of his parents' house, he penned, 'Bobby Savage's Secret War', which was first performed by Marble Productions NI at the Lagan Barge, Belfast on 13th September, 2018.

Opera N.I present 'The Chronic Identity Crisis of Pamplemousse'

An opera for children composed by Greg Caffrey and performed by the NI Opera Studio and Hard Rain Soloists Ensemble. Pamplemousse is a grapefruit. He's upset and lonely. His mouse neighbours aren't very friendly unless he's crying sweet juicy tears and what makes it worse is he can't squeeze through their mousehole to try to get to know them. Will he ever find someone who likes him just as he is? 'The Chronic Identity Crisis of Pamplemousse' is a new 30-minute opera written for Key Stage 2 children with a positive message about friendship and self-confidence. Children will get the opportunity before the performance to take part in an hour long interactive workshop where they'll be able to explore the music, themes and characters of this exciting new work.

Mary Doran and David Johnston present their Exhibition and Rock and Blues Night

Mary Doran has been a lecturer at South Eastern College for the past 14 years. She graduated from the University of Ulster in 2003 with a B.A Honours degree in fine art. Her work represents both plain air and studio work from photos, drawings and imagination. 'I treasure the country I live in and paint the landscapes I love – from the Mourne Mountains to the Antrim Coast. More recently, I've been inspired by Southern Ireland. My inspiration comes from the melodramatic elements of the Irish landscape and wild flowers growing in it.'

David Johnston was born in Northern Ireland and has lived around the Hillsborough area all his life. From an early age he began sketching and painting, developing a natural talent, and although he has had many major influences from both the Irish and European art world, he has developed his own distinctive style. never one to be stuck with a 'safe formula' he continually tries different techniques pushing and pulling the paint around the canvas often aiming for something more visual than representational and always hoping to take the viewer to a new level – a new way of looking. He is now full time artist and has had several successful joint and solo exhibitions.
